

As a training professional, you're responsible for finding and developing the learning resources, experiences, knowledge, and pathways to help employees grow in their careers.

Wouldn't it be nice if someone did that for you?

Imagine a world where the highest quality, most respected training resources you need at every stage of your career are:

- ✓ Easy to find and quick to access
- ✓ Targeted and aligned to your development goals
- ✓ Interactive, engaging, trackable, and shareable
- ✓ Curated just for you

Welcome to the All-New Training Magazine Network

On-Demand, Personalized, and At Your Service

Training Magazine Network is your learning concierge, an active community of learning industry professionals that brings together the expert resources, innovative technology, and vast content database to help you chart your course, learn and share with peers around the world, and grow your career.

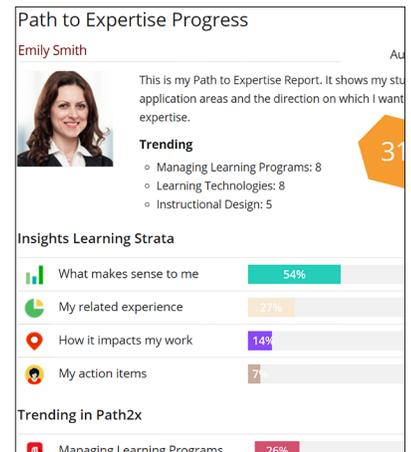

Join our community and discover what it's like to have learning catered to your needs.

Training Magazine Network's Path to Expertise (Path2X) is your single source for all the resources and systems you need to plan, measure, track, and share your learning progress, credentialing, and goal achievement.

A personalized learning management system designed exclusively for training professionals, Path2X allows you to chart your learning in key specific areas validated by leading industry experts:

- Create your learning path with a highly visual, dynamic interface
- Find relevant resources at each step
- Track, monitor, and share progress and accomplishments
- Network with colleagues

Training Magazine Network's Pinpoint Interactive Webinars are on-demand, at-your-service learning unlike anything you've ever experienced before.

Jump to the exact point of reference that addresses your specific needs, and leave questions or comments for the presenters and other viewers to build your knowledge.

This is learning technology with a precision focus on your learning:

- Search by content, topic, keyword, and desired action
- Dive in exactly where you want to land
- Learn from the most respected thought leaders and experts in the field
- Ask questions and share insights

Let experts serve your professional development needs for a change!

Sign up today at: TrainingMagNetwork.com/membership

For every stage of your career, it's personalized learning, at your service.